FINAL WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT

We all have an inner strength. That strength may be a strong faith in yourself or in a higher power. It could be a strength seldom used, cultivated, or nurtured. You may not have defined it in terms of a value or belief system. It may have failed you in the past, but understand that you have paid your debt to society, and your exit from prison or jail ends a chapter in your life. Now it is up to you how your future will be framed and how you will grow and advance. You need to forgive yourself and also forgive others.

You are not the first to have made a mistake and you won't be the last, but let this be a new chapter in your life. Just remember, the streets still remain the streets and if you seek trouble it will find you. Avoid those old haunts and those old "friends" who are not healthy for you. Break clean from that old environment and those people. This could even include family members if they are using drugs or if they are involved in illegal activity. As painful as it may be, you must take care of yourself and surround yourself with people who will affirm your new lifestyle and support you in making positive changes.

Anticipate problems so they don't overwhelm you. Be patient and take things one step at a time. Prioritize the things that really need to happen (getting a job) and let the rest come when you are ready (like finding a new girlfriend or boyfriend). Seek advice and assistance from peers and mentors who seem to be doing it right. Be your own best advocate, because when all is said and done, you alone are responsible for yourself. Let your release be the start of something new.

Accept the Challenge.

You must apply in person at a Vermont DMV office. You will need:

1. A completed application for Vermont Non-Driver ID (Form TA-VL-17)
2. A document proving your identity and age, such as your:
 - o U.S. passport.
 - o Birth certificate.
3. Proof of your Social Security number (SSN), such as your:
 - o Social Security card.
 - o Pay stub.
 - o Letter of eligibility from the Social Security Administration.
4. 2 documents proving your Vermont residency, such as your:
 - o Utility bills.
 - o Lease agreement.
 - o Renters insurance.
5. Proof of your name change (if applicable), such as your:
 - o Marriage certificate.
 - o Divorce decree.
 - o Court order.
6. To pay the fee. Fee information provided below.

Standard ID card: $24.

Those receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI)/Social Security Disability (SSD): $10.

Enhanced ID card (EID): $30 in addition to standard ID card fee.

Duplicate ID card (including EID): $20. SSI/SSD individuals: $10.

The Vermont DMV accepts payment by:

- o Cash.
- o Personal or business check.
- o Money order.
- o Travelers check.

Driver License Re-instatement

To reinstate your driver's license, you may need to:

- o Submit an SR22/proof of car insurance to the VT DMV, if necessary.

- o Satisfy any court requirements, if applicable.
- o Pay a $80 reinstatement fee.
- o Make sure your Probation Officer is on board with your driving while under supervision.

REBUILDING YOUR LIFE

The transition to life in the community is a big challenge, and this brochure is designed to help you through this exciting but often difficult time. Please consider the following as you navigate this process:

Do your homework. Make as many arrangements for yourself as you can before you get out. Use this brochure to write to agencies for help.

Give yourself time to adjust. Don't try to accomplish everything right away. Take time alone or with supportive family and friends only. Be patient with yourself and know it might take you a while to reach your goals. You may feel depressed or overwhelmed. This is normal - just take some time to heal.

Ask for help. There is an answer to every question you have. All you need to do is ask. This does not make you weak, it makes you smart. Call the agencies in this pamphlet. If they can't help you, ask them who can. Keep asking until you get the right answer.

Take care of yourself and surround yourself with people who will affirm your new lifestyle and support you in making positive changes. Stay away from the "old neighborhood." Avoid people and places that are associated with your old behaviors. This may even include family members who are still using drugs or are involved in illegal activity, as hard as it may be.

DON'T GIVE UP!

TAX BENEFITS FOR EMPLOYERS WHO HIRE EX-FELONS

You may be able to encourage someone to hire you by telling him or her of the tax benefits available to employers who hire ex-felons who are veterans, disabled, receiving food stamps, or who have been unemployed for at least 4 weeks.

The work opportunity tax credit (WOTC) offers tax savings to businesses that hire employees belonging to various targeted groups. These groups include people ages 18 to 39 living in designated communities in 43 states and the District of Columbia, recipients of various types of public assistance, certain veterans, ex-felons and certain youth workers.

The instructions for Form 8850 detail the requirements for each of these groups. Certification by the state workforce agency is generally required. Normally, a business must file Form 8850 with the state workforce agency within 28 days after the eligible worker begins work. An eligible employer can claim both the WOTC and the new hire retention credit for the same employee. However, an employer may not claim both the payroll tax exemption and the WOTC for the same employee. Therefore, any employer that chooses to apply the exemption to wages paid to a qualified employee may not receive the WOTC on any wages paid to that employee during the one-year period beginning on the employee's hiring date.

SOME TIPS ON GETTING STARTED

This pamphlet is intended to help you begin the process of re-entering the community. It outlines steps you can take before your release as well as some positive steps you can take after release.

Information included in this pamphlet will guide you to find help with transportation, employment assistance, job search tactics, health care, individual and family support, and other special programs.

While we have worked hard to ensure that the information in this booklet is up to date, some organizations may have moved, changed phone numbers, or ceased to exist by the time you contact them. Try not to be discouraged — call the next number and ask them for more information.

When you are released, remember to make immediate contact with the probation and parole office and follow all parole conditions completely. They will also have information for you.

Make lists of goals/tasks/to-do. Break problems into small manageable tasks. Write questions for you PPO and others down when you think of them, so you remember to ask when you meet with your PPO.

Today a lot of information is available online. If you don't have access to a computer, contact your local library for information about free computer use and access to the Internet. HCRJC also has computers for public use.

Some examples:

~Job related skills or job training before, during, or after your incarceration including facility jobs and work crew.

~Any positive work evaluations, duties assigned that involved responsibility, training you conducted, or supervisory activities you carried out.

~Any educational activities completed such as, GED, college credits, and vocational training.

~Any other rehabilitation (life skill classes, personal development classes, religious activities, NA/AA, drug counseling - only if related to your conviction). Here are some examples you could use when answering the felony conviction question:

- Since then I have completed _____ (certificate, sobriety programs, job assignments, volunteer work).
- I have been sober for over _____.
- I am committed to living an honest life.
- I am not proud of the choice I made during that time in my life but since then, I have _____.
- I put it behind me and redirected my life.
- My goal is to help others avoid the mistake I made.
- Since then, I have reunited with my family and want to be a better parent.
- I now make healthy choices and have healthy relationships.

Note:

Avoid using words like “aggravated” or “dangerous.” These words are interpreted as violent and may be taken out of context.

The only letters that should accompany an application is a cover letter (if the position requires one), letters of recommendation, and reference letters. Do not write a letter explaining your felony conviction(s).

AVOID

- Rushing through the application.
- Sloppy penmanship.
- Employment gaps-blanks from when you were in prison.
- Appearing desperate; for example, “Position Desired: Anything.”
- Brief descriptions of your job duties.
- Leaving blanks on the application.

INSTEAD

- Read the application completely before starting.
- Take time to print neatly and clearly.
- Show the work experience while you were incarcerated.
- Use a specific job goal, for example: “Position Desired: A full time position where I can offer my skills in adapting and repairing tools, machinery, and equipment.”
- Be descriptive when writing about your job duties and skills.
- Wages earned while incarcerated always write minimum.
- Under desired salary always put open or negotiable, never write a dollar amount.
- Make sure you have correct phone numbers of previous employers and references.
- Complete all spaces on the application where information is requested, including NA if it is not applicable.

PREPARE TO DISCUSS YOUR BACKGROUND

It is always necessary to be honest about your conviction(s) when completing employment applications. For example, if your age and lifestyle were factors in the crime, you may choose to discuss this with honesty either on your application or during your interview. If your life is different now, explain the positive changes.

Make sure you mention all the job-related activities while incarcerated and any activities you feel could make a good impression with employers. Remember these examples should be tailored to you and your circumstances.

TIPS FOR FINDING A JOB

Take time to prepare a resume. You can get help with this at VocRehab, Department of Labor, and Hartford Restorative Justice Center.

THE APPLICATION FORM

The application form is the most important part of the process. It is how you make your first impression with an employer. Save time by completing one generic application and take that application with you to use as a guide to fill out each new application. If the application asks if you have been convicted of a felony/misdemeanor, answer yes. It is no longer advised to write “will explain during interview.”

Employers recommend and often require answering the felony question with facts about your conviction. Please note if the felony question asks “Have you ever been convicted of a felony/misdemeanor,” they want ALL of them disclosed. If the question asks “Have you been convicted of a felony within the last 7 years,” and your conviction was 8 years ago, the answer would be NO.

Family Matters

The transition back home can be almost as disruptive for the family as when the person first gets incarcerated. Many adjustments have been made in that person's absence, and families need to learn how to be a family again. Children will have many questions about how things will be different, and it is important for the whole family to discuss what the new rules and routines will be. Each child reacts differently to having a parent return home, and some may still harbor anger or resentment. We strongly recommend family counseling to assist you in this transition. Many formerly incarcerated persons have questions about how to regain guardian status. In some cases, the person may have an active file at Dept. of Children and Families (DCF) that they need to clear up.
